

*The Melinda Wolfe Internship
in
Global/Transnational Gender Issues and Problems for Women, Gender, and Sexuality Studies Students*

This award provides a student the opportunity to participate in a summer internship on global/transnational issues and problems related to gender. Although we may consider proposals for such internships in the U.S., preference will be given to those proposing internships abroad. The internship may be one that the student has independently arranged with an organization, or it may be part of an international study abroad program, such as School for International Training (SIT). Students are advised to consult with Barbara Baumgartner, Study Abroad advisor in Women, Gender, and Sexuality Studies (bbaumgar@artsci.wustl.edu).

Eligibility: Freshman, sophomore, or junior WGSS major

Application due date: February 6th

Application materials:

- Current transcript (unofficial)
- Resume
- One letter of recommendation from a WGSS faculty member or WGSS- affiliated faculty member
- Research proposal that addresses the reasons for pursuing a summer abroad internship, the ways it fits with course work and future goals (i.e., honors thesis, graduate study, employment plan), and qualifications for the internship.
- Statement regarding financial need, including any scholarship or other relevant circumstances.

Student applications will be reviewed by a committee of Women, Gender, and Sexuality Studies faculty members and applicants will be informed of the results by February 15th.
